U.S. Representative Joe L. Barton

2006 AGGIE MUSTER SPEAKER
U.S. Representative
Joe L. Barton

Congressman Joe Barton was first elected to serve the Sixth District of Texas in 1984. In 2004, he was selected by his colleagues to be the Chairman of the House Committee on Energy & Commerce—the oldest standing legislative House committee. The Energy & Commerce Committee has arguably the broadest non tax-oriented jurisdiction of any congressional committee, with principal House responsibility over matters relating to commerce, public health and marketplace interests.

The Wall Street Journal calls Chairman Barton the "House GOP's leading expert on energy policy." Barton has led the House charge to pass comprehensive national energy policy legislation. In the past two congresses, he has shared authorship of the two most comprehensive energy policy packages to pass in the House since the 1930s. Barton has committed himself to passing legislation promoting an environment of high supply, low demand, consumer-friendly prices and environmental protection.

Joe Barton was born in Waco, Texas. An avid baseball player growing up, he earned a four-year Gifford-Hill Opportunity Award scholarship to Texas A&M University, where he was the outstanding industrial engineering student for the Class of 1972. After earning a Master's of Science degree in Industrial Administration from Purdue University, he joined Ennis Business Forms, where he rose to the position of Assistant to the Vice President. In 1981, he was selected for the prestigious White House Fellows Program, and served as an aide to then-Energy Secretary James B. Edwards. He returned to Texas in 1982 as a natural gas decontrol consultant for Atlantic Richfield Oil and Gas Company before being elected to Congress.

Barton and his wife Terri have homes in Ennis and Arlington, Texas. He has four children, two stepchildren and three grandchildren. ■

Announcements

Club attains 501(c)(3) public charity designation from IRS

The Denver A&M Club would like to announce that we have recently been approved by the Internal Revenue Service to operate as a 501(c)(3) public charity.

We are one of only two A&M clubs outside of Texas, and one of only about 8 clubs nationwide that have this distinction. WHOOOOOOP!

Special Thanks Christine Tesdall '89, our V.P. of Finance, did so much work on this effort, that it's worth noting a few things. First, due to a computer mishap that occurred before our time in office, we had no financial statements. Christine, armed only with bank statements, had to decipher 4 YEARS of income statements and decipher events as best she could. Second, those income statements represented only one page of a roughly 40 page application to the IRS, which Christine single handedly typed up herself. As a relevant aside, Christine is a CPA who specializes in auditing at a successful accounting firm here in town. That certainly helps! We cannot thank her enough, and I hope you will also thank her when you get a chance. She can be reached via email at: vpfinance@DenverAggies.com.

What This Means This means that all direct donations to the club will now be tax deductible, and you will also be able to deduct a part of your payments to the club for other fundraising items and dues. The club will be announcing policies and details on these tax deductible payments as they arise. We say a 'part of your payments' because the amount that is deductible has to be reduced to account for the value of goods or services received as a result of your payment.

One prime benefit of being a 501(c)(3) charity is the ability to get matching funds from employers who match 501(c)(3) charitable donations. If your employer offers this, we of course, highly encourage you to take advantage of it! Other benefits include discounts on event location rentals, a sales tax exemption, and an increased ability to solicit silent auction donations. ■

Call for Muster Silent Auction Items

In our bid to get Muster Silent Auction items, we're hitting you up for things you can donate. In addition, we're asking folks to hit up friends, relatives, and business contacts as well. Now that we're a 501-c-3 public charity, it should be easier to convince folks to donate for the good cause of college scholarships for Colorado high school students. PLUS, IT'S TAX DEDUCTIBLE!!! We'll give all silent auction donors the paper work they need to deduct things on their personal or corporate taxes!

HELP US BRAINSTORM FOR IDEAS!

- Do you have Season Tix to a sporting team? Theater? Ballet? How about your company? Does your company have a suite or box?
- Do you belong to a golf club? Country club? These clubs like to donate a round of golf, etc.
- Do you have discounts/coupons/gift certificates that your or your business could donate? How about your friends?
- Who do you know that works in or owns a restaurant? A bar? A hotel? A condo? A wine store? (We can package different bottles of wine/liquor together as one item if need be)
- Do you know someone who has a condo in the mountains?

Donated items can be small, say at least $10 — as we can package things together and auction them off.

Help us out by doing your own brainstorm, and feel free to email us with your brainstorming ideas. All you have to do is supply us with the ideas and leads — we'll take care of the rest! Call Tamra Reynolds at 979-229-9727 or email her at vpfinance@DenverAggies.com. ■

The Denver A&M Club: Bigger and "Badder"

The Denver A&M club achieved the honor of becoming the largest A&M club outside the state of Texas this year. We achieved this by taking a very aggressive approach to marketing the club, and it paid off. We came from 70 members in July to 220+ by October, and in the process, increased our opt-in email list from 330 to 530+ today!

Marketing Research From the beginning, we began researching not only other major A&M clubs, but other alumni groups from other colleges as well. We were hungry for new ideas on how to grow the club, and we found many.

Membership Promotions Our primary objective was to grow our membership ranks. To sway potential members who were on the fence, we offered several promotions for joining the club. Some of the promotional items we used were Rockies tickets, t-shirts, and discounts at club events.

Accessibility In an effort to make buying a membership more convenient, we offered the ability to join the Denver A&M club at our web site at www.DenverAggies.com. Being able to join easily, and with several payment options (Credit Cards, online check, PayPal, etc), memberships rose substantially.

Advertising Advertising the Denver A&M club came in two forms: Post cards and emails. Prior to the CU game, we sent over 3,000 postcards to the A&M alumni family in our club's region. These professionally designed postcards announced our plans for the CU game and encouraged all Aggies to join our yahoo group email list to receive regular updates on club activities. Also included was an invitation to our web site, where they could find out how to join the club.

The cheapest option by far to reach potential members for the club was through the email option. We secured email addresses from the Association and initiated several mass email campaigns targeting not only Aggies in our region, but also specifically targeting the "north side" and "south side" suburban areas. These emails explained upcoming events in their respective regions and invited Aggies to join the club and email list.

In addition to the mass email campaigns, we signed up to receive notification, from The Association of Former Students, of all new Aggies moving into our region and their email addresses on file (if they have one on file). When we began this in July, we set up a process where I email these Aggies a personalized welcome and invitation to join our email list. As part of the process, we also followed up with them a couple more times just in case our email got lost in the shuffle, or they were busy moving and forgot. Some of these contacts are still in process, but of the ones that have gone through the process, all but three have joined the email list.

We hope to continue to refine these marketing efforts and find new ways to market to help the club continue to thrive well into the future. Thanks for joining and making our club the biggest and "badder" outside of Texas!

Putting your financial support to good use

The club has about $8,000 of unallocated funds that we have decided to put to good use. About $5,000 of this was raised from CU game operations, and the rest was left over money from previous administrations. After consultations with the officers and the Board of Directors, we have decided to allocate $5,000 to scholarships over the next four years and $3,000 to future club administrations to be spent however they decide.

Scholarships

The $5,000 above is in addition to the roughly $5,000 that we already have in our scholarship fund at Texas A&M. This $10,000 will be allocated as follows: $4000 in scholarships will be awarded at this upcoming Muster in 2006. Further, an additional $2,000 in scholarship money will be allocated each year for the next 3 years. This money is in addition to the funds raised during those years for scholarships.

Future Administrations

One thousand dollars will be allocated each year for the next three years to future administrations. These administrations can choose to use this extra money to fund new events, pay administrative costs, or even allocate the money to scholarships.

It was important for us to put this money to use for a good cause. We also realized it was important that we try to operate on a four year allocation cycle since that will get us to the next Colorado football game, which is a major fund raising opportunity.

We hope you will continue to support the club and help us send more and more Colorado high school students to Aggieland for the experience of a lifetime!

The following donors have been very generous to the Denver A&M Club, so we'd like to recognize them here. If you'd like to donate something for one of our events and have your link placed on our web site, send an email to: vpfinance@denveraggies.com

Letter from the President

Howdy Ags!

Whew! It has been one heckuva year! Even though the officer team is only about two-thirds through the term, it's been an exciting ride already. We've had so many new initiatives that my head just spins at times. You should be proud of all of the Aggies who volunteered to be officers this year.

The Efforts

We started off in lots of directions. We realized we hadn't awarded a scholarship yet for last year, so we got to work and did that. We reviewed about 30 bars and restaurants for game watching, and used this information as leverage to negotiate a good deal with LoDo's downtown. LoDo's agreed to give us top priority of the roughly eight alumni clubs behind only the Michigan Club who has some seniority, and generally draws more folks than us. They gave us all kinds of specials, a custom Aggie menu, gift certificates for raffle prizes, access to their audio/video systems, and even a free keg of beer at one of our games! Best of all, when a couple of minor challenges arose, they responded quickly with professionalism and effective solutions.

We initiated a full scale marketing strategy to take advantage of the upcoming CU game and football season. We realized that our club had tremendous potential this year, so we embarked on a campaign to increase membership. Increasing membership not only improves our finances, but it also gives us clout with the Association and credibility with potential new members. Brad Reynolds '02, V.P. of Marketing, designed promotions and email campaigns to support this effort. Our email list blossomed from 330 members in June to 530 in January. Our memberships blossomed as well. Having gone from 70 members in June to 220 by October, I can happily say that we are now the largest A&M club outside of Texas! Whooooooop!

Amy Miller '94 volunteered to run point for us on the CU Barbeque and fundraiser. This was no small challenge, but Amy put on a very successful barbeque, feeding 350 Aggies. I can't count the number of compliments I got about the CU weekend events, and most of these were from out of town Aggies who said it was one of the best pre-game shindigs they'd ever been to. I agree—not that I'm biased or anything. Ha ha.

I appointed committee chairs to help with new efforts. We started holding game watching parties in the suburbs, supported by new Suburb Chairs. Rachel and Jason Hopper '96 led the south side efforts, while Anthony Harrigan '87 led the north side efforts. We got a decent initial response, and we hope to grow that further next year. In addition, we appointed a new Fundraising Chair to handle silent auctions, scholarships, and community service events. Amy Smith '05 and Tamra Reynolds '03 shared the position, under the leadership of our V.P. of Finance, Christine Tesdall '89, and were able to hit the ground running with just a few short weeks before the CU Game. As a result of their efforts, we raised over $1600 for our scholarship fund at the CU Barbeque.

Christine Tesdall '89, a Certified Public Accountant(CPA) and our V.P. of Finance, was given a "secret mission" by me. I wanted her to apply to the IRS to see if we could get 501(c)(3) status, as several other large A&M clubs have done. I wasn't 100% sure we'd get approved, so we didn't announce the initiative to anyone outside the officers and board members. I didn't really realize quite what I was asking her to do at the time. Through some investigation, she found out the club had lost its financial data when a previous officer's hard disk went capooey... twice! So, armed with only bank statements, Christine had to decipher FOUR YEARS of club finances. To top that, the finances of the club was only 1 page out of a roughly 40 page application! Christine did the entire application, and brought it to me for a couple of check marks and signatures. She sure made my life easy! The good news is her mission was successful, and in December, we received our IRS ruling letter granting our 501(c)(3) status. The public charity status brings us a host of benefits like tax deductions for members, discounts on services, easier access to silent auction donations (that are now tax deductible) and a state sales tax exemption. Nice work, Christine!

The Future

Adrienne Brown '03 and Tara McWhirter '97 have been busy the entire year, planning event after event. Adrienne grabbed the reins quickly and got the club set up with two "Activity Kits" that include all the forms, nametags, and other goodies needed to put on a great A&M club event. Tara was instrumental in the club t-shirts, as well as the ladies and ladies "bling"- baby tee styled shirts. Adrienne has also taken over the responsibility for working with the suburb chairs, and Tara will be working hard to keep cocktails in everyone's hands and make sure all Aggies and friends have a great time at happy hours. Bring a friend to happy hour! They don't have to be an Aggie—the more the merrier!

Though we re-designed the web site in the fall, that was really only the first phase. During that first phase, we concentrated on creating an easy to maintain and easy to use site, while providing online membership and payments via PayPal. We also managed to acquire the domain name of "DenverAggies.com" and got the Association to host our domain for us. I'd like to see us address our web presence further in the future and fill out some parts of the site to assist in increasing activity within the Denver Aggie Network. Speaking of the Denver Aggie Network, I'd like to see the club initiate efforts to increase the business networking that we do as members. Look to see some results from these efforts by Summer 2006.

In my view, one area that our club is sorely lacking in is officer manuals. We've begun to address that by creating some small process guides and by saving off efforts of our research. I'd like to see us pull that together in a more comprehensive way so that we support the club for the near future, and also to make things easier on would-be officer volunteers.

One other area where I think the club can do better in the future is in attracting families and older Ags. We tried some things along these lines, but I think we can do much better. A big part of this challenge is primarily that many families live in the suburbs, so I'm hopeful that the suburb activities will draw some families out for some fun. Another part of the challenge is designing events so they're kid friendly. The ice cream social drew out some kiddos, and we had a piñata at the Christmas party. We're also planning some kid friendly activities for the summer picnic and maybe even a bowling night outing. As for the older Ags, I'm a bit foggy there. We get a few at football game watching parties, and several at Muster. We've still got some room to improve there.

I'd also like to thank Chris Busch '94, my V.P., for the experience, service, and wisdom that he contributed during my rookie year as an officer. Lastly, I'd like to thank my Mom, Margaret Bradley, for donating her time, efforts, and patience with me, in constructing such a fantastic looking newsletter!

Though all of our new efforts have not had resounding success, many of them have. We try to listen to every suggestion from you, but we're also aware that changing something to accommodate one group of people might disappoint another, different group of people. It's sort of like robbing Peter to pay Paul. In any event, we respect your opinions, and we encourage you to keep the good ideas comin'!
